Dear Ms. Kamath,

I tried to give you a call to arrange the exchange of exhibit binders, but I received no response.

Please get back to me as soon as possible to arrange for the exchange, otherwise we cannot be responsible for missing the 5:00pm deadline.

We cannot simply leave them outside your office as they contain Highly Confidential documents.

Thank you,
Dan

Hello Dan,

I have a mail-receiver who accepts the exhibits leaving them in a safebox. It will not be outside anywhere, that is not how I ever receive mail.

Sincerely,

Reshma,

Dan Peterson said you want to exchange the exhibits tomorrow instead of 5 pm today as ordered by the Court. We will not lightly disregard the court order and will provide our exhibits to you today by 5 pm. We reserve the right to strike any late service by you. Our firm will close at 5:30 pm today. So you must serve your documents before 5:30 pm. No one will be at the office Saturday or Sunday.

Jim:

I did not say that. Your attorney for Quintara informed me that he could not get Quintara exhibits to my office in Menlo Park timely. I informed him there is a mail-receiver at my office until 9 p.m. PDT today.

We're actually waiting to hear from you whether you're at your office today. He stated he was busy with other cases.

I stated if he were busy then he can deliver to my mailbox until later today.

We're actually done and this is the confirmation that I'm hearing from you after the call.

We have not received Quintara exhibits either.

Reshma,

I think you are misrepresenting what transpired in the telephone call. However, it does not really matter. As long as you deliver your exhibits to us today no by 5 pm or at least later than 5:30 pm, we have no issues. We will deliver to you ours at the Staple dropbox to which you have directed us today.

The misrepresentation has steadily come from your office.

In fact, you had the Menlo Park, CA further informed to you in Court. It was not provided to you just today.

We of course knew the Menlo park address. But we did not know it was at a Staple Store. That's why we needed to make sure there is someone at the office to receive the many boxes of binders. That's why Dan called you and emailed you. I think you sometimes say things without any basis. But let's stick to the issue at hand: Are you going to deliver your binders to our office by 5 pm today?

We have not received any trial binders from Quintara and Li Law until now. I checked. All my mail is time-stamped and scanned in.

I think our trial binders were delivered to your San Jose, CA address, and we have pictorial proof.
